It is not out of place to say here that the continued improvement of James river and e increased depth of water is a source of disfaction to our city and State. A vessel drawing 14 to 14g feet of water can be loaded at the wharf of the Chesapeake and Ohio railroad. The appearance of large vessels in our waters to load petroleum brought over that road here is another important element in our trade. To the subect of the improvement the committee of the Chamber appointed for the purpose has paid the greatest attention.

We may also look forward to the connection of the Chesapeake and Ohio railroad with the James River and Kanawha canal by the Clifton Forge railroad as another very imortant link in our commercial relations. by this short railroad the large tonnage can be transported to the waters of the canal, and thus come to important cities of the state with dispatch and at a low rate of freight.

THE ALLEGED MURDERER IN THE POLICE AMINATION AND INQUEST-WHY FAHER-TY KILLED HIS COMPANION-REGRETS THE DEED WHEN TOO LATE-THE FUNE-RAL, ETC., ETC.

W. J. Murley alias Faherty, who so suddenly and so unceremoniously put an end to the life of Charles H. Childs on Wednesday night, was brought before the Police Court for examination yesterday morning. An immense crowd of people, curious to see the prisoner, gathered in the courtroom and almost stared him out of countenance. On the night of the shooting, with the liquor in him, and the enormity of the crime perhaps not fully realized, he did not seem greatly concerned. Yesterday morning, however, he appeared fully conscious of his predicament, and depressed in spir-NEW MEMBERS AND OFFICERS ELECTED- its, and well he might, for under the most favorable circumstances, and with the aid of most able and zealous counsel, his prospects in life are not very flattering.

Out of abundant caution the Police Justice declined to consent to do as proposed till he could ascertain the result of the coroner's inquest, and therefore continued the ease till this morning.

In charge of two policemen Faherty was permitted to go down to Sutherland's store, where he was employed up to last Saturday, to make some pecuniary arrangements and to settle his business affairs.

Faherty collected some money due himit was but a few dollars-and was then taken back to the Police Court. The Justice kindly allowed him to keep the money in his possession in order that he might purchase for himself delicacies not furnished in the prison bill of fare. As announced in the Dispatch, the inquest upon the body of young Childs was held at the residence of his mother, No. 614 a pistol-shot wound at the hand of W. J. Beverley street, in Clay Ward, yesterday Faherty on the night of the 7th day of June, afternoon at 5 o'clock. There were present Mr. Nolting moved that a committee of besides the jury and the friends of the deceased quite a number of persons who had been attracted to the house in the hope, no doubt, of hearing some new facts connected with the murder of Wednesday night. The that the Board of Directors be elected in house is not a large one, and there was but little room for any one except those whose duties required them to attend the inquest. The remains were dressed in a suit of black, and the body placed in a handsome burial-case, in the parlor, preparatory to the funeral ceremonies. Upon the arrival of the jury they were taken into the parlor, where they viewed the remains and were sworn, as follows: Dr. W. Augustus Lee (foreman), Valentine Brown, H. A. Beville, R. E. Knowles, J. S. Wilkerson, and P. E.

"YOU'VE BEEN PULLING MY COAT, NOW DIE." The first witness examined was Mr. James Giblin, the proprietor of the Emmett House, immediately in front of which the shooting occurred. His testimony under oath was in substance the same as that which was given to our reporter by him on Wednesday night. Witness stated that the back of his seat was towards the fire-plug. He saw the white hilt of the pistol, which he took to be tipped with ivory. When Faherty drew the pistol he pointed it, as witness Rought, high enough to pass over Childs's head. It was done so quickly that no human Georgia. being could interfere. As he pointed his pistol at him he said, in a dramatic sort of way, "You've been pulling my coat, now die." As he made this remark he fired, and Mr.

THE SUNDAY-SCHOOL CAUSE.

MASS-MEETING LAST NIGHT AT DR. READ'S DENOMINATIONS-INTERESTING AD- tel on Broad street to pass some consoling DRESSES-THE LEGITIMATE RESULTS OF SUNDAY-SCHOOL WORK, &c.

A grand mass-meeting of officers, teachers, and friends of the Sunday-school cause of all denominations, was held at Grace-Street Presbyterian church last night at 84 o'clock-Colonel J. B. Cary (vice-president) in the chair, C. P. Rady secretary.

The meeting was opened with singing by the choir of the church led by Mr. Harvie Blair; prayer by Rev. T. G. Dashiell, and reading Scriptures by Dr. J. E. Edwards.

OBJECT OF THE MEETING.

The President stated the object of the meeting to be a social gathering of Sunday-school workers to consider practical questions of great interest to the cause. He then announced as the subject for discussion, "The legitimate results of Sundayschool work." Rev. Dr. Campbell, pastor of the Presby-terian church of Manchester, first addressed the meeting. He said Sunday-School teachers have to use all the means in their power and leave the results to God. Have always before them the great thought that the children must be saved. Let the prominent end and aim be to lead the children to Mr. Albert L. West said when we con-to the heathen may we not by Sundayof many of the scholars with a desire to go expect it.

Mr. James B. Winston said: There is an apprehension among some that the earnest Sunday-school worker will substitute Sunday-school teaching for parental instruction. This fear is groundless, for the Sunday school may be made a very valuable auxiliary to parental authority and teaching. Sunday-school teaching ennobles and raises high the standard of obedience. This is certainly one of the legitimate results of Sunday-school work.

Mr. Charles Magruder said the Sundaychool work is one of the most important works, and contributes greatly to the success of the Church. One of the legitimate results is to reach the outcasts and bring them to be taught the way of salvation. There are a great many other good and that may be seen on earth, but we shall never see the legitimate results in all their magnitude until we all stand around the throne of God in heaven.

Mr. Thomas Potts said the great end and aim of Sunday-school work is to teach the pure gospel, and there is one great and grand result, and that is the salvation of the souls of the scholars. Let all Sundayschool workers aim at this result, and eternity will disclose the great work they have

The object of the meeting having been announced, about ten or fifteen resolutions were presented and adopted by the crowd. The resolutions denounce all of the customhouse officials who participated in and supported the Conservative candidates at the late election (or didn't support Smith); declining to recognize them as leaders of the Re publicans for this city or district; discountenancing all of the Government employes who supported the Conservative ticket and who aided and advocated the claims of cer-tain Conservatives publicly and in open defiance of the wishes of a majority of the colored people of this city; endorsing John Ambler Smith as the only recognized leader of the Republican party; denouncing all he post-office officials, and providing for the appointment of a select committee to call a mass-meeting or convention to reconcile the disaffected Republicans.

Resolutions were also adopted repudiating the course of Joe Cox, W. H. Lester, Landon Boyd, Gilbert Boyd, S. D. Jones, Coroin Benton, J. W. Dungee, Philip Green, Edinborough Archer, and others. CHANCERY COURT OF RICHMOND, THURS-

Canal Waste-Gates Out of Order .-- Yesterday the Council Committee on Water-Power visited the canal waste-gates, which were reported to be in a dangerous condition. The commiltee, after consultation, decided to place a force of hands at work upon them at once. The break is in the bank. The workmen will be engaged all of to-night if necessary, so that the manufactories on the water line will not have to stop their operations. But if the break is not completed at the hour for resumption of work to-day, of course they cannot resume operations, as the water will have been shut Accidentally Killed .- Cornelius Hubank driver in the employment of Mr. E. V. Palmer, a merchant engaged in business at the corner of Byrd and Ninth streets, met with an accident Wednesday evening which resulted in his death on yesterday. It appeared that Mr. Hubank had been to Manchester on business with his dray, and had been drinking; that upon returning, and when near the Free bridge, he lost his balance and fell to the ground, one of the wheels of the dray passing over the small of his back. The horse kept on with the dray some twenty-five yards, and stopped, Mr. Hubank got up, went to his dray, and drove it over to the store of Mr. Palmer, and assisted in putting the horses away. At the instance of Mr. Palmer he went into the house and laid down. He was questioned as to his injuries, but from his responses nothing of a serious nature was apprehended.

Yesterday morning he did not seem to be suffering a great deal, but a physician was sent for, who informed Mr. Palmer that he could not live two hours, as he was injured internally. About 12 o'clock a stimulant was given him, which he sat up in bed and drank, and in five minutes thereafter he was a dead man. Deceased resided over the store of Mr. Palmer. He leaves a wife and several children in indigent circumstances.
